IS GOD FINISHED WITH ISRAEL? - By David Cloud

The following is excerpted from the new book WHAT ABOUT STEVEN ANDERSON?, which is available in print or as a free eBook from:

https://www.wayoflife.org/free\_ebooks/what\_about\_steven\_anderson.php

Anderson is an Independent Baptist preacher who has growing influence through his YouTube videos and movies. This review of his teaching deals with the following errors:

- Holocaust denial
- Replacement Theology
- Rejection of biblical Repentance
- The heresy that salvation doesn’t have evidence
- Cursing of homosexuals
- Christ suffering in hell as an atonement for sin
- The denial of the imminency of the Rapture

We give extensive proof that God is not finished with Israel and that the church is not Israel and defend the Pre-Tribulation Rapture (155 pages).

We are told by many that God is finished with Israel, that she has been replaced with the church, and that the church is Zion, and the earthly Jerusalem has been replaced with the heavenly Jerusalem.

We have long been told this by covenant theologians who follow the “church fathers” that devised this view.

Now are hearing replacement theology taught by some Independent Baptists.

In the video Marching to Zion, Steven Anderson teaches that Israel today, the Israel that returned to the land and established a modern state, is not the Israel of the Bible. Rather, God is finished with the nation Israel and New Testament believers are the “true Israel.”

“It’s those of us who believe in Jesus Christ that are Israel. ... We Christians are the true people of God. We are the true Israel. And we are marching to Zion” (Anderson, Marching to Zion).

Other men associated with Anderson are saying the same thing.

“So I’m Israel. Those people over there are not Israel” (Pastor M.J. Filenius, 36th Street Missionary Baptist Phoenix, Arizona, cited in Marching to Zion).

“There is NOTHING in the New Testament to support the Jewish occupation of Palestine. In fact, Paul clearly tells the believers, that we (saved) are the ‘seed of Abraham’ and the ‘children of promise’ (Galatians 3-4; Romans 9)” (Matt Furse, Who Is Israel?)

These men are saying that God is finished with national Israel, and in this report we intend to answer that false charge from Scripture.

Who says that God is not finished with national Israel? The whole Bible says this. It is taught from Genesis to Revelation. The only way to refute it is to allegorize and spiritualize a vast amount of plain Scripture, which is exactly what Replacement Theology does and which is exactly what we refuse to do. No one is going to rob us of a consistent normal-literal method of interpreting Bible prophecy, because the evidence that this is the proper method of interpretation is overwhelming.

THE ABRAHAMIC COVENANT

The Abrahamic Covenant says God is not finished with Israel.

God’s covenant with Abraham is one of the most important things in human history. By this covenant, God created the nation Israel and brought the Scriptures and the Saviour to the world. By this covenant, God brought salvation to the sinful human race through Christ. By this covenant, God will fulfill His eternal plan to bring together all things in one in Christ (Eph. 1:10).

The Three Blessings

God’s covenant to Abraham promises personal blessings (for Abraham himself), national blessings (for the 12 tribes of Israel), and universal blessings (for all of the redeemed)--not one or the other, but all three.

The personal aspect of Abraham’s covenant belongs to Abraham himself (“I will bless thee, and make thy name great,” Ge. 12:2). Abraham is one of the most important men in human history. He is mentioned 250 times in the Bible. He was blessed by wealth even in his lifetime (Ge. 24:35). Through Isaac, Abraham is the father of the Jews and the Christians, and through Ishmael, he is the father of the Arabs and the Muslims. Paradise is named after him (Lu. 16:22), because he is the father of saving faith (Ro. 4:11; Ga. 3:14).

The national aspect of Abraham’s covenant belongs to the nation Israel (“I will make of thee a great nation,” Ge. 12:2). Israel inherited the covenant through Isaac (Ge.

26:1-4) and Jacob, whose name was changed to Israel. God said to Jacob, “And the land which I gave Abraham and Isaac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land” (Ge. 35:9-12). To national Israel belongs the land that was promised to Abraham. Compare Ge. 12:7; 13:14-17; 15:7. In 1 Chronicles 16:13-16 David affirmed that Abraham’s covenant passed through Isaac and Jacob to Jacob’s children, the nation Israel, and that the promise includes the inheritance of the land.

The universal blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant are enjoyed by all believers through Abraham’s greater Seed, Jesus Christ (“and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed,” Ge. 12:3). Those who receive Christ become Abraham’s seed (Gal. 3:6-9, 29). But New Testament believers do not possess the land of Israel and our hope is not tied to that land. Our hope is not earthly but heavenly. We will rule and reign with Christ, not as Israel, but as Christ’s Bride. How exactly the church will relate to Israel in the Millennial kingdom is not revealed in Scripture.

The Seed of Abraham

Abraham was promised a seed. This is mentioned at least 24 times in Genesis (Ge. 12:7; 13:15; 13:16; 15:5, 13, 18; 16:10; 17:7, 8, 9, 10; 17:19; 21:12; 22:17, 18; 24:7; 26:3, 4, 24; 28:4, 13, 14; 32:12; 35:12; 48:4).

There is national and physical seed. Abraham’s seed is the nation Israel which shall inherit the land (Ge. 15:13-21).

There is spiritual seed through Christ (Ga. 3:16, 29). The apostle Paul teaches that all of the blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant come through Abraham’s greater Seed, Christ (Gal. 3:16), but Paul also teaches that Israel today is Abraham’s seed, though not currently the children of God (Ro. 11:1; 2 Co. 11:22).

The rebellion of Abraham’s national seed, Israel, does not annul the promises that God has made to her.

Everywhere in Scripture we are taught that national Israel would be judged for her sin, but that she will be restored to her own land and to the place of God’s blessing when she repents. In the section on distinguishing Israel from the Church in the previous section on the Interpretation of Prophecy, we looked at many passages that teach this (Deuteronomy 28-30; Hosea 3:4-5; Amos 9:8-15; Acts 3:18-21; 15:13-18; Romans 11:25-29).

Consider Leviticus 26:31-45. This passage describes the judgment that will come upon Israel because of her sin against God, but it says further that Israel will be restored when she repents and acknowledges her sin, and this restoration is because of the covenant that God made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

“THEN WILL I REMEMBER MY COVENANT WITH JACOB, AND ALSO MY COVENANT WITH ISAAC, AND ALSO MY COVENANT WITH ABRAHAM will I remember; and I WILL REMEMBER THE LAND. The land also shall be left of them, and shall enjoy her sabbaths, while she lieth desolate without them: and they shall accept of the punishment of their iniquity: because, even because they despised my judgments, and because their soul abhorred my statutes. And yet for all that, when they be in the land of their enemies, I WILL NOT CAST THEM AWAY, NEITHER WILL I ABHOR THEM, TO DESTROY THEM UTTERLY, AND TO BREAK MY COVENANT WITH THEM: for I am the LORD their God. But I will for their sakes remember THE COVENANT OF THEIR ANCESTORS, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen, that I might be their God: I am the LORD” (Le. 26:42-45).

Words could not be plainer. Israel’s rebellion does not annul the covenant that He made with her through Jacob. In this passage, God is talking about the people of Israel and the land of Israel, and there is no legitimate way to apply this to the church.

The Blessing and the Curse (Ge. 12:3)

God promised to bless those who bless Abraham and to curse those who curse him.

Laban testified that God blessed him for Jacob’s sake (Ge. 30:27).

Potiphar testified that God blessed him for Joseph’s sake (Ge. 39:2-3).

The principle of cursing those who curse Abraham and blessing those who bless him is applicable to Abraham’s national seed. God has blessed and cursed nations for how they have treated Israel.

God has used many nations to judge Israel when she sinned, but He always judged those pagan nations afterwards. Isaiah 33:1 pronounces woe upon “the spoilers,” referring to the spoilers of Israel. God used the spoilers to judge sinning Israel, but He pronounced woe upon the spoilers. This happened to Assyria (Isa. 10:25). It happened to Babylon (Jer. 51:11). God took vengeance on Babylon for destroying Israel’s temple. In Zechariah 2:8-9, God says that Israel is the apple of His eye, and He warns that He will judge those who destroy Israel.

The prophet Ezekiel addressed many nations and pronounced judgment upon them for hating Israel.

See Eze. 25:3-7 (Ammonites), Eze. 25:8-11 (Moab), Eze. 25:12-14 (Edom), Eze. 25:15-17 (Philistines), Eze. 26:2-5 (Tyre), Eze. 28:22-24 (Zidon), Eze. 35:3-15 (Edom).

Israel is under God judgment today for her unbelief, but she is still Israel, and she still belongs to God, and she is still under God’s watchcare, and those who curse her are still cursed. I, for one, would not curse Israel, even in her most apostate condition. When Israel was wandering in the wilderness because of her sin and unbelief, God did not allow Balaam to curse her. “How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I defy, whom the LORD hath not defied?” (Nu. 23:8).

I believe we can see this biblical principle at work in the history of Great Britain. After Britain turned against Israel and renounced the Balfour Declaration, which was a solemn promise because of Jewish help during World War I, and Britain did everything she could to arm the Arabs and to disarm the Jews prior to and after 1948, she soon lost her empire.

The principle of cursing those who curse Abraham and blessing those who bless him is applicable to born-again Christians who are Abraham’s seed (Ga. 3:29). God has blessed nations for how they have treated Christians and how they have given liberty for the preaching of the gospel. We can see this today. Those nations that give the most freedom for gospel preaching and church work are the most blessed nations.

THE COVENANT OF DEUTERONOMY 29-30

The covenant of Deuteronomy says God is not finished with Israel (Deuteronomy 29-30). It has been called “the Palestinian Covenant,” but we believe that a better name is “the Return Covenant.”

The covenant of Deuteronomy 29-30 guarantees the return of Israel to the land. The same Israel that would rebel and be cast out of the land and suffer great indignation (De. 30:22-28) will return (De. 30:1-9).

This covenant was made with the 12 tribes of Israel at the end of the 40 years of wilderness wandering just before they entered the Promised Land. It was made in the land of Moab (De. 29:1), which bordered the land of Canaan on the east.

The covenant promises that Israel will be restored to the land and blessed after the judgments of God are finished (De. 30:1-9).

The covenant is unconditional and sure--“thou SHALT return and shalt obey his voice” (De. 30:2-2); “the Lord thy God WILL bring thee into the land” (De. 30:5); “God WILL circumcise thine heart” (De. 30:6); “God WILL put all these curses upon thine enemies” (De. 30:7); “thou SHALT return and obey the voice of the Lord” (De. 30:8); “God WILL make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand” (De. 30:9).

The covenant will be fulfilled when Israel, scattered among the nations repents (De. 30:1-2).

This proves that apostate Israel of the Diaspora is the Israel that will fulfill this covenant.

Israel will be gathered from among the nations and brought to “the land which thy fathers possessed” (De. 30:3-5).

Israel will be restored to the place of God’s blessing. “And the LORD thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy land, for good: for the LORD will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers” (De. 30:9).

This covenant is not fulfilled in Israel today, but it will be fulfilled when Israel is converted during the time of Jacob’s Trouble (Jeremiah 30:7).

The covenant cannot be applied to “the church” without doing violence to language. It pertains to people who were scattered among the nations and then brought back to the very land possessed by their fathers.

THE DAVIDIC COVENANT

The Davidic covenant says God is not finished with Israel (2 Samuel 7:4-17).

The Davidic covenant is an extension of the covenant God made with Abraham. In the Davidic covenant, God gives more details about the national kingdom aspect of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Israel's future existence, restoration to the place of God's favor, and the re-establishment of her kingdom is based on God's unconditional promise to David.

The Davidic Covenant promises the following: First, the house and throne of David will be established forever (2 Sa. 7:13, 16). Second, David's children will be chastised for sin, but the covenant can never be annulled (2 Sa. 7:14-15). Third, the Davidic covenant will be fulfilled through Jesus Christ, David's Son, who inherits David's throne (Mt. 1:1) and who will establish the Davidic kingdom (Isa. 9:6-7).

The Psalmists mention the Davidic covenant and interpret it literally (Ps. 18:50; 89:3-4, 20-37; 132:11-18). The Psalmists teach us that the Davidic Covenant is the means whereby God will establish His kingdom on earth (Ps. 89:20-29). Psalm 72 describes in much detail the physical, earthly kingdom of David's Son Jesus the Messiah.

The prophets often mention the Davidic covenant and interpret it literally (Isa. 9:6-7; 16:5; 22:22-24; 55:3-5; Jer. 23:5-6; 30:9; 33:15-26; Eze. 34:23-24; 37:24-25; Amo. 9:11-15; Zec. 12:7 - 13:1).

For example, Hosea plainly describes the fall of Israel followed by her return and the re-establishment of the Davidic kingdom.

"For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim: AFTERWARD shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and shall fear the LORD and his goodness in the latter days" (Ho. 3:4-5).

This is the Bible's teaching about Israel and her future in a nutshell. Israel would rebel against God's Word, be judged, abide many days without a king or a sacrifice or a priesthood (e.g., no kingdom and no temple), then return, repent, and be restored and blessed. The restoration will occur "in the latter days."

According to Replacement Theology, Jesus is currently sitting on David's throne in heaven and this is the fulfillment of the Davidic covenant, but this requires allegorical gymnastics that I, for one, refuse to engage in. It requires "spiritualizing" the plain words of the Davidic covenant and the New Covenant.

Progressive Dispensationalism also says that Christ is already sitting on David's throne, but it further teaches that Christ will establish a literal 1,000 year kingdom in fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy at His return. This is called "already but not yet," meaning that "Jesus is already on David's throne but has not yet completely fulfilled the promise of God to David for a descendant to sit on his throne" ("What Is Progressive Dispensationalism?" gotquestions.org).

But no verse or passage in the New Testament says that Christ is currently sitting on David's throne. Psalm 110:1-4 doesn't say that; one must read this into the passage. David wrote Psalm 110, but he does not say here that the Messiah will sit on his (David's) throne while He awaits victory over His enemies. In fact, the Bible tells us that the throne upon which the Messiah currently sits is the Father's throne.

THE NEW COVENANT

The New Covenant says God is not finished with Israel (Jeremiah 31-33).

The New Covenant is God's promise to convert rebellious Israel, restore her to her own land, and bless her.

Consider some facts about the New Covenant:

1. It was made with the nation Israel (Jer. 31:31).
2. It promises the following things:
  - a. The regathering of Israel (Jer. 31:6-11)
  - b. God's blessing upon Israel's land (Jer. 31:4-5, 12-14, 24-25). Ezekiel often refers to the land as "the land of Israel" when he prophesies of Israel's restoration (Eze. 11:17; 20:38, 42; 37:12; 38:18-19; 40:2; 47:18).

- c. The spiritual conversion of the people and cleansing from sin (Jer. 31:33-34)
- d. The reestablishment of Israel's kingdom and the possession of the land (Jer. 31:35-37)
- e. Blessing upon Jerusalem as the capital of the kingdom (Jer. 31:38-40)

There is no way to make this fit the church without doing violence to plain Bible language and to clear promises of God.

3. The New Covenant is unconditional and sure (Jer. 33:19-26). God goes out of His way to make this absolutely clear.

"In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The LORD our righteousness. For thus saith the LORD; David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; Neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD; If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season; Then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. Thus saith the LORD; If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them."

Note that God specifically corrects those who say that He has cast off the families of Israel that they should be no more a nation. This is exactly what Replacement Theology says.

Consider two other major prophecies of the New Covenant in the Old Testament, among many that could be considered:

Isaiah 61:1-12

Isaiah 61:1-2 is the passage that Jesus read in the synagogue at Nazareth at the beginning of His ministry (Luke 4:18-21). He stopped mid-way through verse 2 and said, "This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears." He didn't read the rest of the prophecy which deals with God's judgment on and the restoration of Israel.

The old wastes will be rebuilt (Isa. 61:4).

Strangers will serve Israel as shepherds, farmers and vinedressers (Isa. 61:5).

Israel will be converted and be the priests and ministers of God (Isa. 61:6). Israel will finally be what God intended that she be, which is a light to the nations.

Israel will be physically blessed and enriched (Isa. 61:6).

The nations will recognize Israel's conversion and know that God has blessed her (Isa. 61:9). This, too, tells us that these are real, earthly events.

Ezekiel 36:22-38

God will restore Israel for His name's sake (Eze. 36:22-23). As God's name has been profaned among the nations because of Israel's apostasy, so His name will be glorified in her repentance and restoration.

God will regather Israel from among the nations and bring her to her "own land" (Eze. 36:24). This is proof that the land of Israel belongs to ancient Israel and that currently apostate Israel will be restored to it.

Israel will be converted and cleansed and given a spiritual heart to love and obey God (Eze. 36:25-27).

Israel will then dwell in the land that God gave to their fathers (Eze. 36:28).

Israel will be physically blessed in the land (Eze. 36:29-30, 33-34, 38).

The nations will know that the Lord has done this (Eze. 36:36). The restoration and blessing will be visible, dramatic events, and there will be no question by the onlookers that prophecy will have been fulfilled.

The New Covenant and Church-age Believers

Question: If the New Covenant is not fulfilled in the church, why does the writer of Hebrews quote it (Hebrews 8:6-13; 10:15-19)?

Answer:

1. Hebrews does not say the New Covenant is fulfilled in the church. It twice states, rather, that the New Covenant belongs to “the house of Israel” (Heb. 8:8, 10).
2. Hebrews refers to the New Covenant to show that the Mosaic law was only temporary and that even the Old Testament promised that it would be abolished and replaced by another covenant. Hebrews was written to Jews who professed Christ, some of whom were being tempted to return to the Jewish religion because of persecution. It was written to encourage them that Christ is superior in every way. The writer of Hebrews mentions the New Covenant to show that God had all along planned to replace the Mosaic Covenant with a better one.
3. The writer of Hebrews indicates that the New Testament believer partakes of the spiritual blessings of the New Covenant through Christ (Heb. 10:15-18), but nowhere does he say that this covenant has been transferred from national Israel to the church or that the physical aspects of the covenant should be spiritualized. Since the spiritual aspects of the New Covenant (and the spiritual aspects only) are cited in Hebrews 8:8-11 (from Jeremiah 31:31-34), it appears that New Testament believers participate only in the spiritual blessings of the New Covenant through Christ’s atonement.
4. The apostle Paul plainly taught that the New Covenant will be fulfilled literally in Israel following the church age (Ro. 11:25-27). In verse 27 Paul refers to the covenant of Jeremiah 31:31-34.

Isaiah 10:20-22

This is one of the many brief passages in the Old Testament prophets that summarize God’s dealings with Israel.

The prophecy deals with the remnant of the house of Jacob that will return and be blessed after the judgment. It is a remnant that will be saved, not every Jew or everyone who is the seed of Jacob.

The seed of Jacob will be judged and scattered among the nations, but a remnant of that seed will return and trust Jehovah God “in truth,” and the conversion with “overflow with righteousness.”

This has not yet happened, but it will happen during the time of Jacob’s trouble when Israel will be converted in preparation for the return of Christ and the establishment of His kingdom.

Ezekiel 34:11-31

This beautiful prophecy of the Shepherd leaves no doubt that God is not finished with national Israel.

The Shepherd, of course, is Jehovah God, and we know from the New Testament that this is Christ, the Son of God who identified Himself as the Good Shepherd (Joh. 10:11, 14).

He will regather the sheep from the countries where they have been scattered and bring them to “their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel” (Eze. 34:12-13). This obviously is not what God is doing today in the church age. This is national Israel being brought back from her Diaspora to her own land.

God will distinguish between “cattle and cattle” (Eze. 34:17-22). Not every Jew will be saved. Zechariah explains that one-third of the Jews living at that time will be saved (Zec. 13:8-9).

The Lord will be their God, and David will be a prince among them (Eze. 34:24). David’s Son, Immanuel or Jehovah God in the flesh, will sit on the throne of Israel.

God will make a new covenant with Israel, and she will experience peace and blessing and prosperity (Eze. 34:25-29).

Note that the God plainly says that “the house of Israel are my people” (Eze. 34:30). This refers to restored Israel in the future.

Ezekiel 37:1-14

The prophecy of the Valley of Dry Bones says God is not finished with Israel (Ezekiel 37).

This great prophecy is the only one that explains that Israel will return from her wanderings among the nations in two stages, and in the first stage she will return in a spiritually dead condition.

The interpretation of the valley of dry bones is plainly given in the prophecy itself. It signifies Israel in her dispersion among the nations.

“Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts” (Eze. 37:11).

The resurrection of the dry bones represents Israel’s return to the land and restoration as a nation.

“Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel” (Eze. 37:12).

This is as great a miracle as the resurrection from the dead. Never in human history has a nation been evicted from its land and scattered throughout the world for 2,000 years to survive as a nation and be restored to its original land and with its original language and religion.

The first stage of the restoration of Israel is in an unconverted state.

“So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: BUT THERE WAS NO BREATH IN THEM” (Eze. 37:7-8).

This is exactly what Israel is today and where Israel is today prophetically. Modern Israel is not righteous and is not a fulfillment of the regathering described in connection with the prophecies we have already considered. The land has been developed in an amazing way, but it is not a fulfillment of prophecies about the desert blossoming as the rose (Isaiah 35:1). Modern Israel is, by her own profession, a secular state and most Jews are secular Jews who aren’t religious and don’t believe in the God of the Bible. A large percentage are avowed atheists. A minority hold to various branches of “orthodox Judaism,” which is a religion that does not follow the Old Testament but rather follows the Talmud. “Rabbinic Judaism” is ancient Phariseeism.

But the prophecy teaches that God is going to touch Israel again and convert her spiritually.

“Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. ... And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD” (Eze. 37:9-10, 14).

This is in the future, and it is described in many prophecies, as we have seen, such as Zechariah 12-14.

It is clear from Ezekiel’s prophecy that God is not finished with Israel. The same apostate Israel that was evicted from the land and scattered among her nations for her sin will be restored to the land. This has nothing to do with church age saints.

Ezekiel 37:15-28

This prophecy emphasizes that Israel and Judah will be reunited (Eze. 37:15-20). Though most Jews today do not know their tribe for certain, God knows, and He doesn’t need a DNA test. The 12 tribes are not lost and will be restored by God.

Israel will be regathered from the nations and brought into “their own land” (Eze. 37:21). They “will dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt” (Eze. 37:25). There can be no question that the prophecy predicts the restoration of Israel to her own land and that it is presented as a literal, physical event.

Israel will be one nation and have one king and prince (Eze. 37:22, 24, 25). David himself will be there in a leadership position, but other Scriptures explain that it is David’s Son who will be the King of kings.

Israel will be cleansed of her sin and will obey God (Eze. 37:23, 24).

God will make an everlasting covenant with Israel (Eze. 37:26).

God will place His temple in their midst (Eze. 37:26-27). This is the temple described in great detail in Ezekiel 40-48.

These things will be seen by the nations and God will be glorified by them (Eze. 37:28). The prophet is describing real physical, earthly events.

Ezekiel 38-39

The prophecy of Gog and Magog says that God is not finished with Israel (Ezekiel 38-39). This prophecy describes an attack upon Israel by a great military alliance from the north.

Our purpose here is not to look at the prophecy in detail but to see that it proves that God is not finished with Israel.

The prophecy occurs when Israel has been “brought back from the sword” and “is brought forth out of the nations” (Eze. 38:8). It occurs after a regathering that follows the land of Israel becoming waste. Obviously it refers to the restoration of the same Israel that was scattered among the nations.

The attack of Gog and Magog will occur in the latter days (Eze. 38:16). We see that Israel still exists in the end times.

The attack will occur at a time when the “people of Israel dwelleth safely” (Eze. 38:14). This isn’t today. It could be during the first 3.5 years of her covenant with the Antichrist. It could refer to after Armageddon. It’s difficult to place the time exactly, but it is certainly referring to a literal Israel in a literal land.

The armies of Gog and Magog will be supernaturally destroyed by God (Eze. 38:21-22).

Israel will be brought back from the nations and will know the Lord. God’s Spirit will be poured upon “the house of Israel” (Eze. 39:25-29).

The nations will then understand God’s dealings with Israel (Eze. 39:23).

In this prophecy, God calls Israel “my people” (Eze. 38:14, 16). The land is called “my land” (Eze. 38:16), referring to Jehovah God’s, and “the land of Israel” (Eze. 38:18, 19) and “their own land” (Eze. 39:28).

It is perfectly obvious that God is not finished with Israel, that she will return to the land, be restored to God and to the place of His blessing, and her enemies will be punished. It is impossible to apply this prophecy to the church.

Daniel’s 70 Week Prophecy

Daniel’s 70 Week prophecy says that God is not finished with Israel (Daniel 9:24-28).

This great prophecy clearly describes a complete summary of God’s program for Israel from the Babylonian Captivity until the return of Christ. The 70 weeks are weeks of years, or 490 years, as it is clear from the fulfillment so far.

During the 70 weeks, God’s judgments upon Israel will be completed and Christ will return to bring in the kingdom. The angel tells Daniel that the prophecy pertains to his own people, the Jews, and to the holy city, Jerusalem (Da. 9:24).

The first 69 weeks (483 years) extended from the time that the commandment was given to rebuild Jerusalem after the Babylonian captivity to the time of Christ’s first coming. The commandment to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem was given by Artaxerxes the king of Persia, and is described in Nehemiah 1:1-8. (The same king gave the commandment to rebuild the temple 13 years earlier as described in the book of Ezra, but Daniel 9:25 speaks particularly of the rebuilding of the city wall.) Daniel’s prophecy describes three great events that occurred in this time. First, Jerusalem was rebuilt (Da. 9:25). The rebuilding of the city streets and walls in troublous times is described in the book of Nehemiah. Second, Messiah was “cut off, but not for himself,” meaning that He died on the cross for man’s sins (Da. 9:26). His death was substitutionary. Third, the city and temple were destroyed (Da. 9:26). This occurred in AD 70 when the armies of Rome destroyed Jerusalem.

After that there will continue to be wars until the time of the end (Da. 9:26). This describes the Roman Jewish wars, but it also describes the last 2,000 years of Israel's history. Even today, though Israel is back in the land, she has had no peace, and she will have no peace until she repents and receives her Messiah, Jesus.

The last week, or seven years, of Daniel's prophecy remains to be fulfilled (Da. 9:27). Between the 69th and 70th weeks is the church age, which is called a "mystery" because it was not revealed to the Old Testament prophets (Eph. 3:3-6). The church age is like a valley that the Old Testament prophets did not see lying between the peaks of the first and second coming of Christ. Paul describes the church age as the time of Israel's blindness in Romans 11:25-27.

The last week (seven years) of Daniel's prophecy is divided into two parts (Da. 9:27). At the beginning of the seven years, the Antichrist will make a false peace covenant with Israel. It is at this time that the Jewish temple will be rebuilt in Jerusalem. Revelation 11 describes it being measured (Re. 11:1-2) at the very time when the Two Witnesses will prophesy in Jerusalem. Mid-way through the seven years the Antichrist will break this covenant and desecrate the temple by exalting himself as God. Compare 2 Thessalonians 2:3-4. This event marks the beginning of the 3.5 years of Great Tribulation. Jesus calls this event "the abomination of desolation" (Mt. 24:15).

This prophecy sees Israel, Daniel's people, continuing to the time of the Antichrist. It teaches us that the Antichrist and his program does not pertain to the church; it pertains to Israel and to her land and temple.

Hosea

Hosea 3:4-5 says that God is not finished with Israel. This passage plainly describes the fall of Israel followed by her return and the re-establishment of the Davidic kingdom.

"For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim: AFTERWARD shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and shall fear the LORD and his goodness in the latter days" (Ho. 3:4-5).

This is the Bible's teaching about Israel and her future in a nutshell. Israel would rebel against God's Word, be judged, abide many days without a king or a sacrifice or a priesthood (e.g., no kingdom and no temple), then return, repent, and be restored and blessed. The restoration will occur "in the latter days."

Amos

Amos says that God is not finished with Israel.

"Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD. For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us. In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old: That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God" (Am. 9:8-15).

This is another of the many Old Testament prophecies of the restoration of Israel after her worldwide dispersion. It is clear and precise, and only by doing violence to the language can it be made to describe anything other than a restoration of the nation Israel.

Consider some of the lessons from a literal interpretation of this prophecy:

God will judge Israel severely for her sin, but He will not utterly destroy her (Am. 9:8).

Israel will be sifted among the nations, but not the least grain will fall to the earth (Am. 9:9). He has always had His eye upon Israel and has been in control of her wanderings.

The sinners of Israel who do not believe God's Word will perish (Am. 9:10). They are the national seed of Abraham, but that does not mean they are saved or will be saved. Those who do not repent will not be saved.

James does not say that Amos 9 is fulfilled in the church or that God is finished with Israel. For that, it would have been necessary that he interpret the kingdom prophecies allegorically or spiritually, but instead he interprets Amos literally.

Since he cites the part of the prophecy about the salvation of the Gentiles as literal, there is no reason to believe that he was looking at the restoration of the house of David as anything other than literal.

If the apostles had believed that the church has fulfilled such prophecies, this would have been the ideal place to have made that perfectly clear, but they did just the opposite.

But Israel itself will be restored. The tabernacle of David will be raised up and built as in the old days (Am. 9:11). This will occur when Christ returns and sits on the throne of David, ruling Israel and the whole world.

The restoration of the house of David will be accompanied by blessings on the land (Am. 9:13-15). The prophecy pertains to a land.

Words could not be more clear and simple to understand, and this is the consistent testimony of the entire Bible. The same Israel that turned from God and was judged and scattered among the nations will be restored to her land, the very land upon which she lived in ancient times, and she will live on that land and be blessed in that land, and the Son of David will restore the Davidic kingdom and rule and reign over it. That's the teaching of the Bible from the Pentateuch to Revelation.

Amos' prophecy is cited by James in Acts 15.

“And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written, After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up: That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things” (Ac. 15:15-17).

Here James quotes Amos 9:11 and gives a general reference to Amos 9:12 without quoting it exactly. His simple point is that the Old Testament prophets foresaw God's blessing on the Gentiles. This was the subject in question at the Jerusalem conference.

Zechariah

Zechariah says God is not finished with Israel.

Consider the great prophecy of Zechariah 12-14.

Jerusalem will be besieged by the “people of the earth” but will be delivered and will conquer all their armies (Zec. 12: 1-9). The nations that come against Jerusalem will be destroyed.

This has never happened. God destroyed Sennacherib's army, but that consisted of one Assyrian army, not the nations of the world. The armies of the world have never attacked Israel before. Zechariah's prophecy will be fulfilled when the nations attack Israel during the time of the Antichrist. It is part of the Battle of Armageddon.

At that time, Israel will repent and will acknowledge the crucified Jesus as Christ (Zec. 12:10-14). They will look upon him “whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son.” The mourning will be in Jerusalem and all over Israel. The mourning will involve the house of David and the house of Levi and the other families.

This is obviously talking about national Israel and not the church in any sense. Israelites today might not know their tribal genealogies, but God knows.

Israel will be cleansed by the blood of Christ (Zec. 13:1).

Israel will be cleansed of idolatry and false teaching (Zec. 13:2-6).

One-third of Israel will be converted, and two-thirds will be judged (Zec. 13:7-9). The third part will be brought through the Great Tribulation for purifying (Zec. 13:9). This is why the tribulation is also called the time of Jacob's trouble (Jer. 30:7).

The Lord will return to the Mount of Olives and it will be divided (Zec. 14:1-7). A great valley will be formed, and the remnant of Jews will flee from Jerusalem.

A river of living waters will flow from Jerusalem (Zec. 14:8). Ezekiel also describes this, and it will heal the Dead Sea and the desert area in the Judean wilderness to the east of Jerusalem (Eze. 47:8-12).

Israel's topography will be changed (Zec. 14:10).

The LORD will be king over all the earth (Zec. 14:9). His kingship of the earth is spoken of in the context of His return to the Mount of Olives and blessings on the land of Israel.

Israel will be blessed and enriched (Zec. 14:14).

The surviving nations will come to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts (Zec. 14:16).

The nations that refuse to submit will be punished (Zec. 14:17-19).

Israel will be perfectly holy (Zec. 14:20-21).

This prophecy cannot be spiritualized to refer to the church without doing it such damage that it is rendered meaningless.

Christ's Teaching

The Lord Jesus taught that God is not finished with Israel. Consider four examples:

In Matthew 23, after Christ condemned the Pharisees and their false traditions and false works religion, He said to the Jews of that day and to Jerusalem, "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, TILL ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord" (Matthew 23:38-39). Note the word "till." Christ promised judgment upon Israel. He prophesied that their temple would be desolate. But the judgment wasn't going to be permanent. It has an end, and it will end when Israel repents. This repentance is described in great detail by the prophet Zechariah (chapter 12).

In Matthew 24, Christ continued this same teaching. The temple of His day would be destroyed so that there would not remain "one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down" (verse 2). The visitor to Jerusalem can still see the "Titus stones" that were thrown from the temple mount in AD 70 and crashed to the street below at the south end of the western wall. And Jesus prophesied of the rise of the Antichrist spoken of by Daniel, who will stand in a rebuilt Jewish temple (Mt. 24:15). And then those who are in Judea will flee (Mt. 24:16). Jesus is prophesying of the Israel that exists today, the Israel that occupies the hills of Judea and is preparing to build the third temple. Christ is prophesying of modern Israel. He says she will still be under God's judgment in the end times and will endure great tribulation (Mt. 24:41). He prophesies of false Jewish christs that will rise, and we know that many of them have already risen (Mt. 24:24-26).

In Matthew 24, Christ is teaching the same literal truths about Israel that all of the prophets describe. He doesn't describe Israel's conversion in Matthew 24, but that is described in many other prophecies. All of the prophecies give the same literal plan for Israel: rejection of Jesus as Christ, dispersion, judgment, conversion, restoration.

What about Matthew 21:43?

"Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof."

If this verse were isolated, it could teach that God was finished with Israel and that the church has replaced Israel, but it cannot possibly teach that since Christ Himself said that He is not finished with Israel. He said they would not see Him TILL they repent (Mt. 23:39).

Christ always described a literal physical kingdom on earth. He said "They shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God (Lu. 13:29).

Christ gave the parable in Luke 19:11-27 specifically to teach that the kingdom of God would not come at that time but would come after the king would go into a far country and then return (Lu. 19:12). After he returns he will reward his servants and judge his enemies. This describes the church age followed by the establishment of an earthly kingdom, exactly as we see throughout Scripture.

Acts 1 also tells us that Christ taught that the kingdom of Israel will be restored.

After His resurrection, He spoke to the disciples “of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God” (Ac. 1:3).

It is obvious that the kingdom Christ taught them about was the kingdom promised in Old Testament prophecy and that He had not taught them that the church has replaced Israel, because just before He ascended, the disciples asked, “Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?” (Ac. 1:6).

They believed that Israel’s kingdom would be restored, they just didn’t know when.

Christ’s reply makes it doubly clear that they were all on the same page about the future of Israel’s kingdom. He said,

“It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Ac. 1:7-8).

If the disciples had still misunderstood Christ’s teaching about Israel’s kingdom, this would have been the perfect time to have corrected their thinking. But Christ didn’t say, “You are confused; there is no restoration of Israel’s kingdom.” Instead, He told them that the timing of the re-establishment of the kingdom is God’s business, and they need to focus on their own business in this present time, which is preaching the gospel to the ends of the earth.

Acts 15

The apostolic conference in Acts 15 says that God is not finished with Israel.

The conference was for the purpose of deciding the issue of whether Gentile believers must follow the law of Moses (Acts 15:1).

The determination by the apostles and prophets was that they are not so obligated, because the law of Moses was a heavy yoke, whereas salvation is by God grace (Acts 15:10-11).

They understood that the purpose of the present time or age or dispensation is for God to take out of the Gentiles a people for His name (Acts 15:14). That is a description of the church age in a nutshell. Elsewhere Paul speaks of the fulness of the Gentiles coming in (Ro. 11:25). This tells us that there is an end to the church as far as who will belong to it. There is no end to the church (Eph. 3:21), but there is an end to the church age during which the church is being gathered together. The church age has a beginning and an end.

In his summary, James shows that this is conformable to the teaching of the Old Testament prophets. He quotes from Amos to show that the prophets taught that God would restore the house of David after it was fallen down and would rebuild its ruins, and at that time there would be Gentiles who call on the name of the Lord (Amos 9:11-12). James is not saying that the house of David is restored in the church. To the contrary, he is saying that it will be restored in the future and that when it is restored there will exist saved Gentiles. That implies the salvation of Gentiles before the restoration of Israel’s kingdom, which hints at the church age. This does not contradict the teaching that the church is a mystery. It is a mystery and was nowhere revealed in Old Testament prophecy, yet there are hints of the church age in the Old Testament that can now be understood in hindsight.

What is indisputable is that the apostles believed that the kingdom of David would be literally restored, and it will be restored in the future and it is not currently restored in the church age.

The apostles interpreted the prophecy of Amos 9:8-15 literally.

Romans 11

Paul says in Romans 11 that God is not finished with Israel.

This passage clearly teaches that God is not finished with Israel and that the church has not replaced Israel.

As there is a casting away of Israel, so there will be a receiving of Israel which will be associated with the resurrection of the dead (Ro. 11:15). Daniel also associates the restoration of Israel with the resurrection (Da. 12:1-2).

The church, though different from Israel, is closely associated with spiritual Israel (Ro. 11:16-24).

- The root is not Israel herself. The root is Abraham's covenant and Abraham's Seed Jesus Christ. Both the church and Israel are connected with this root. There is one tree and multiple branches. An Old Testament saint like Samuel and a New Testament saint like Apollos are both children of Abraham. Some of the natural branches growing from the root were broken off because of unbelief, and when they repent they will be grafted back in. The natural branches refer to Israel by nature; the Jews are by nature the children of Abraham, but the natural cannot inherit the spiritual kingdom of God.
- Professing Christians, too, should fear lest they be found to be in unbelief (Ro. 11:20-21). This is the same type of warning as in Hebrews 3:12 - 4:3. It is a warning about professing Christ without possessing Christ through saving faith.

Blindness in part is happened to Israel until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in (Ro. 11:25-27). This is the New Testament teaching about the church and the church age and Israel in a nutshell. Israel is in spiritual blindness today, and that is what we see in modern Israel, but God isn't finished with blind Israel. She will be saved and converted, and God's covenants with her will be fulfilled. Words could not be plainer.

When Paul says that "all Israel shall be saved," he is referring to Israel as Israel and not to every Israelite. This is clear in comparing Scripture with Scripture. All Israel will be saved in the sense of the 12 tribes. Ezekiel tells us that God will restore Judah and Israel and they will be one (Eze. 37:15-20). But Zechariah tells us that only one-third of individual Israelites living in that day will be converted (Zec. 13:8-9). Elsewhere, Paul stated that a remnant of Israel will be saved (Ro. 9:27).

The Book of Revelation

Finally, the book of Revelation says that God is not finished with Israel.

In fact, the book of Revelation can be outlined according to a distinction between the church and Israel. In chapters 1-3, the churches are addressed, but in Revelation 4:1, John is caught up to heaven and after that we don't see the churches on earth.

In Revelation 7, 12,000 individuals from each of 12 tribes of Israel are sealed (Re. 7:1-8). The names of the tribes are given. Here we see that the 12 tribes of Israel have not ceased to exist before God and that He knows who and where they are and they have a future in His prophetic plan. The witness for God in the earth during the Tribulation is Israel, not the church.

In Revelation 8, the prayers of the saints are prayers for judgment. Only Israel prayed such prayers. Church-age saints are instructed to pray for her enemies, not against them (Lu. 9:51-56). The imprecatory prayers of Revelation are those of the Psalms and are based on God's promise to Abraham to curse those that cursed him and his seed (Ge. 12:1-3).

In Revelation 9, the scorpion-like creatures are given freedom to hurt all earth-dwellers except those Jews who were sealed by the angel of Revelation 7. If church-age believers were on earth, they would be subject to this horrible judgment of God.

Revelation 10 identifies the events of Revelation 4-18 with those foretold by Old Testament prophets--the days of the Great Tribulation, the "Day of the Lord." The church age was never in the view of these Old Testament prophecies; it was a mystery not yet revealed. The church has a different purpose and program than national Israel. It is Israel that is in view in Old Testament prophecy and in Revelation 4-18.

The ministry of the two witnesses of Revelation 11 identifies them with national Israel and with Old Testament prophecies of the "Day of the Lord." The two witnesses minister from Jerusalem, Israel's capital. The church has no such capital, her hope being heavenly, not earthly (Col. 3:1-4; Php. 3:17-21). The two witnesses are associated with the rebuilt Jewish temple, which is measured at the beginning of the prophecy, telling us that this is when it will be built. The two witnesses are clothed in sackcloth, which speaks of Israel. The sackcloth signifies repentance from sin and sorrow because of some calamity (1 Ki. 21:27; 2 Ki. 19:1; Est. 4:1; Isa. 15:3; Jer. 4:8). Nowhere are the churches seen in sackcloth. The churches are told, rather, to “rejoice in the Lord always” (Php. 4:4). The church-age believer’s judgment is forever past, and he is to keep his mind centered in the heavenlies where, positionally, he is already seated with Christ (Eph. 2:5-10).

Revelation 11:4 identifies the two witnesses with the Old Testament prophecy of Zechariah 4:3, 11, 14. Further, the two witnesses call down judgment upon their enemies in Revelation 10:5-6. Jesus rebuked his disciples for desiring to do just this and instructed the church-age believer to pray for the well-being of his enemies, not for their destruction (Lu. 9:54-56; Ro. 12:14, 17-21). None of this is church ground. This is Israel ground. This is literal Jerusalem, literal Jewish temple ground.

The devil persecutes Israel, not the church, during the Tribulation (Re. 12). There can be no doubt that the woman in this chapter signifies Israel. Verse 5 shows the woman bringing forth Christ, and it is obvious that Jesus was brought forth by Israel, not by the church (Isa. 9:6-7; Ro. 9:5).

Also, the symbols of Revelation 12:1-2 recall familiar Old Testament typology of Israel. She is referred to as a woman (Isa. 54:5-7). The sun and moon and the 12 stars of verse 2 bring us directly to Joseph’s dream regarding Israel (Ge. 37:9). The words of Revelation 12:2 are almost an exact quote from Micah 5:3, speaking of Israel’s delivery of the Messiah.

These symbols are not used in the New Testament to refer to the churches.

DIGGING IN THE WALLS

God commanded the prophet Ezekiel to dig in the walls of Israel's temple and observe the evils being done in secret by apostate religious leaders of that day. "Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall ... And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here. So I went in and saw. ..." (Ezek. 8:7-10).

Ezekiel was then instructed to preach against the errors of the leaders and to tell the people the things he had witnessed.

"Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man. ... Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the Lord had shewed me" (Ezek. 11:4,25).

The hour in which we live is very similar to that of Ezekiel's day. Many of those who profess to be the people of God are apostate. It was prophesied in the New Testament Scriptures that such would be the case in the closing hours of our age. This will culminate in the brief worldwide rule of an utterly apostate Harlot "church" (2 Tim. 3-4; 1 Tim. 4; 2 Pet. 2-3; Jude; Rev. 17).

As in Ezekiel's day much of the apostasy of our hour is hidden from the view of the average Christian. We intend by God's grace to "dig in the walls" of modern ecumenism and to expose and cry out against the things we find. In this section we also report on secular events which are relevant to Christians. May God give us ears to hear, minds to understand, and hearts to obey. Is the truth of God not worthy of defense?

Journalist Abraham Rabinovich pictured on June 7, 1967 with Israeli soldiers after capture of the Old City of Jerusalem.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF ISRAEL'S SIX-DAY WAR (Friday Church News Notes, June 2, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Next week marks the 50th anniversary of Israel's miraculous Six-day War, in which the tiny nation defeated the military coalition of Egypt, Jordan, Syria, and Iraq (with Arabia, Sudan, Tunisia, Morocco, and Algeria contributing troops and arms). Israel was forced into the war by the belligerence of the Muslim nations who vowed to destroy her. Egypt's president Gamal Abdel Nasser, the leader of the coalition, said, "Our basic objective will be the destruction of Israel" (Isi Leibler, The Case For Israel, 1972, p. 60). Israel's 275,000 troops faced 456,000 enemy troops on three fronts. The Arab alliance had three times the number of tanks and four times the number of combat aircraft. While America and France imposed an arms embargo on Israel, the Soviet Union flooded the Arabs with $2 billion worth of war matériel. In spite of the odds, Israel defeated the combined enemy forces. The Arabs suffered around 18,000 casualties to Israel's 760. It was one of the most lopsided, decisive victories in military history, and many wonders occurred. For example, when Jordan tried to warn Egypt of Israel's imminent attack upon its air force, there was a mixup of secret codes and the warning was not understood. When Israeli forces entered the strategic town of Shechem, the Palestinians thought they were Iraqis and cheered. By the time they realized their mistake, it was too late. Israel captured the Sinai, the Gaza Strip, the Golan Heights, the West Bank, and East Jerusalem, more than tripling the amount of territory she controlled. For the first time in 2,000 years, Israel gained control of Jerusalem. The military correspondent for the leftist newspaper Haaretz observed, "Even a non-religious person must admit this war was fought with help from heaven" ("Miracles in the Six-Day War: Eyewitness Accounts," Arutz Sheva, May 14, 2007). The modern state of Israel is not a righteous nation and is not a fulfillment of the kingdom prophecies. It has done wonders for the land through hard work and clever technology, but the desert blossoming as the rose in Isaiah 35 is not talking about drip irrigation and desalination plants. The majority of Jews today are "secular," while a minority are various degrees of orthodox, meaning they follow the Talmud rather than the Scripture. Tel Aviv is world famous as a homosexual mecca. Israel is not back in the land in fulfillment of the kingdom prophecies; she is back in the land in fulfillment of the great prophecy of Ezekiel 37, which teaches that Israel will return from her worldwide dispersal, described in terms of a valley of death, in two stages, and in the first stage she will return in a spiritually dead condition (verses 7-10). Verse 8 says, "... lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: BUT THERE WAS NO BREATH IN THEM." This is exactly what Israel is today and where Israel is today prophetically. The current state of Israel is necessary to set the stage for the fulfillment of the last week of Daniel's 70 Week prophecy (Da. 9:24-27). She is preparing for the building of the third temple, and she is looking for a peace-making, temple-building Messiah, which is a perfect description of the Antichrist at the beginning of his reign. Israel today is not saved, and she will not be saved until she repents and acknowledges Jesus as the Messiah, and this will occur during the time of Jacob's trouble in the Tribulation (Jeremiah 30:7). Her repentance and conversion is described in Zechariah 12:9-14. Jehovah God says, "... they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.” The One they pierced, of course, is none other than Jesus of Nazareth, the Christ, God manifest in the flesh (Isaiah 7:14), the mighty God (Isaiah 9:6-7).

BONO AND U2 LEAD AUDIENCE IN SO-CALLED “GOSPEL SONG” (Friday Church News Notes, June 2, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - In a memorial for the victims of an Islamic bombing at a rock concert in Manchester, England, Bono and the rock band U2 led a Jimmy Kimmel Live audience in the song “I Still Haven’t Found What I’m Looking For.” Bono introduced it as “a gospel song with a restless spirit,” and when toward the end he encouraged the audience to “take it to church now,” the crowd stood up and “happily joined in on the gospel performance” (“U2 Turns Whole Audience into Gospel Choir,” Christian Post, May 26, 2017). Bono is a certified evangelical hero in spite of the fact (or more likely because of the fact) that his profession of faith in Christ is a confused mess when measured biblically. His gospel is a social gospel and his life doesn’t back up a Christian profession. Consider the song “I Still Haven’t found What I’m Looking For.” It says, “You broke the bonds and you loosed the chains, carried the cross of my shame,” but it nowhere says who did that or what that means. The context of the song appears to be about romance rather than Calvary. It even includes vulgar lyrics about making love to a girl. Further, the main theme is “I still haven’t found what I’m looking for,” which is repeated eight times. That is not the gospel of Jesus Christ. That is anti-gospel. Bono’s song is not a gospel song according the gospel Paul preached by divine inspiration in the epistle to the Romans. Bono’s song says nothing about sin or God’s holy wrath against sin or Christ dying and shedding His blood as an atonement for sin or the resurrection or repentance and saving faith. Those who find the biblical gospel do not continue to say, “I haven’t found what I’m looking for.” They have found what they were looking for and far, far more in the glorious Person of Christ. They have passed from death unto life, from darkness unto light. They have abandoned the broad way for the narrow path of truth and righteousness. They are no longer of the world even as Christ is no longer of the world. By all accounts, Bono has done none of that and doesn’t understand what it means. His gospel is a merging of the sensual with the spiritual, and that is Antichrist. As recently as 2008 Fox News reported that Bono and rocker friend Simon Carmody partied with teenage girls on a yacht in St. Tropez. The report, which was accompanied by a photo of Bono holding two bikini-clad teenagers on his lap at a bar, said, “Bono, Carmody and the girls partied into the night on the yacht.” In 2006, Bono said: “I recently read in one of St. Paul’s letters where it describes all of the fruits of the spirit, and I had none of them” (“Enough Rope with Andrew Denton,” March 13, 2006). In a lengthy interview with the filthy magazine Rolling Stone, Bono said that he dislikes the label “born again Christian” and doesn’t go to church. He said, “I’m a very, very bad advertisement for God” (U2: The Rolling Stone Files). His gospel is a social justice gospel which aims for salvation of society (with taxpayer money, not his own money), but there is no salvation for the eternal soul. MARK DRISCOLL SAYS MANY CATHOLICS “LOVE JESUS” (Friday Church News Notes, June 2, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Mark Driscoll, former pastor of the Mars

Hill Church in Seattle who is back in full-time ministry, says many Roman Catholics “love Jesus.” On May 23, in a weekly forum called “Ask Pastor Mark,” Driscoll posed the following question submitted by a viewer: “I recently had a Catholic friend ask me whose interpretation of Scripture is right? Is it the Lutheran pastor, the Baptist pastor, the Presbyterian pastor, or the Catholic church?” Driscoll replied as follows: “It’s important when it comes to Catholicism to understand that they believe in one God three Persons, Father, Son, and Spirit, the Trinity. They believe in the virgin birth, the sinless life, the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. So a lot of the things I would call the closed-hand big issues, we agree as Protestants with the Catholics. I am a Protestant; there are other issues I would disagree with my Catholic friends on, but I don’t have time in this brief video to get into it. ... There are some Catholics that know and love Jesus. I wasn’t one of them growing up. It wasn’t the church’s fault, it was mine. I just wasn’t interested. My mom was a born again, Jesus loving practicing Catholic. I just want to state that clearly, because sometimes people will want to take Catholics and put them over into some category like they are a cult or another religion, which I don’t believe is the case.” This is an extremely misguided, dangerous reply to a very important question. Driscoll gave zero warning about Rome’s wretched heresies that clearly identify her as a false religion: a sacramental gospel, church tradition equal in authority to Scripture, the blasphemy of the mass, mariolatry, papal supremacy, the saints, purgatory, etc. It is impossible to believe what Rome teaches in the Second Vatican Council proclamations and the New Catholic Catechism and be saved. If anyone has gotten saved in the Catholic church, it was in spite of her teaching and not because of it, and God's Word forbids His people to yoke together with false Christians and unbelievers, so it would be impossible to stay in the Catholic church and be in God's will. "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away" (2 Timothy 3:5). "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?" (2 Corinthians 6:14).

35TH ANNIVERSARY OF OPERATION OPERA (Friday Church News Notes, June 9, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - On June 7, 1981, the Israeli Air Force destroyed Iraq's nuclear reactor in a daring daylight raid. Five years earlier, France and Italy began providing Iraq with the technology and material to build a 40-megawatt nuclear reactor named Osiraq (after Osiris the Egyptian god of the dead). Failing on the diplomatic front, Israel made plans to destroy the reactor before it could become operational. Prime Minister Menachem

Begin authorized the attack. Many within the government and military were opposed to the project, and Begin knew that the fallout would be great, but he said he was determined to destroy the reactor "even if it was the last thing he did as a prime minister" ("35 Years on, IAF Pilots Recall Daring Mission," The Times of Israel, Jun. 4, 2017). After the eight attacking F-16s with eight F-15 escorts launched from Etzion Air Force base in the Negev, they flew over the Gulf of Aqaba and were seen by King Hussein of Jordan who was vacationing on his royal yacht. "He immediately transmitted a warning to his military, requesting that the armies of the surrounding countries be notified, but, for whatever reason, the alert wasn't shared" (Michael Bar-Zohar and Missim Mishal, No Mission Is impossible: The Death-Defying Missions of the Israeli Special Forces). The planes crossed the Gulf of Aqaba, skirted the Jordanian border, and attacked Iraq from the south. The first explosives obliterated the reactor's roof. These were followed by timed-fuse bombs that penetrated deep into the facility before exploding. In 80 seconds, the F-16s had totally destroyed the reactor, and they returned to base without further incident. The youngest flier on the mission was rookie Ilan Ramon. He went on to become Israel's first astronaut and was killed in 2003 in the disintegration of the U.S. Space Shuttle Columbia. The international outcry of Israel's destruction of the reactor was great. France was terribly angry, of course, and even U.S. President Ronald Reagan joined the chorus. But a decade later, U.S. Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney thanked Major General David Ivry, commander of the Israeli Air Force, for the the fact that America did not have to face a nuclear-armed Iraq in the 1991 Gulf War ("Operation Opera," Jewish Virtual Library). Cheney presented Ivry with an aerial photo of the bombed reactor overwritten with the words, "It made our work much easier."

KREEFT SAYS A "NEW REFORMATION" IS IN PROGRESS

(Friday Church News Notes, June 9, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Peter Kreeft, a prominent Roman Catholic apologist and ecumenist, says a "new reformation" is underway which is uniting Catholics and non-Catholics. In an interview with The Christian Post, he said that "more ecumenical progress has been made in the last 50 years than in the last 500" ("God Is Moving to Unite Catholics and Protestants," Christian Post, May 31, 2017). Kreeft's "new reformation" is the Protestant Reformation in reverse. In his new book Catholics and Protestants: What Can We Learn from Each Other?, he says that the collapse of morality in society should bring Catholics and Protestants closer to one another. Kreeft converted from Dutch Reformed to Catholicism through the influence of the writings of the "church fathers" while a student at Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He was particularly drawn to "St. Augustine," in whose writings he found things such as "the Eucharist, the Real Presence, prayers to saints, devotion to Mary, an insistence on visible unity" ("Hauled Aboard the Ark," www.peterkreeft.com). Dr. Kreeft didn't find the truth in the "church fathers," he found doctrines of devils, and for some reason his spirit resonated with these errors. The "church fathers" didn't add one iota of truth to the canon of Scripture, and they have zero authority. The unity that the Kreefts of this age are calling for is not a biblical unity; it is end-time apostasy that is building a one-world "church." It is led by the one who "is transformed into an angel of light (2 Corinthians 11:14).

PENTECOSTALS TRACE THEIR HERITAGE TO POPE LEO XIII'S PRAYER

(Friday Church News Notes, June 9, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Many Pentecostals and charismatics trace their heritage to the prayer of Pope Leo XIII in 1897 for a "new Pentecost." The pope's prayer was allegedly answered by the birth of Pentecostalism in Topeka, Kansas in 1900 and Azusa Street in 1906 and by the birth of the charismatic movement in the 1960s, which quickly spread through the Roman Catholic Church ("This 120-Year-Old Pentecost Prayer Still Rings Out Today," Charisma Magazine, May 30, 2017). To trace one's heritage to the prayer of a pope is evidence of great spiritual blindness. The Roman Catholic Council of Trent put a curse on anyone who says that salvation is by God's mercy alone without works, but 1,500 years before that, God's Word put a curse on any one who says that salvation is NOT by God's grace alone, and we know whose curse will stand. "I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel: Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed" (Galatians 1:6-8).

CHURCH OF ENGLAND TO CONSIDER SPECIAL BAPTISM SERVICE FOR "TRANSGENDERS"

(Friday Church News Notes, June 9, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - At its General Synod in July, the Church of England will consider a proposal for a new baptism service "to celebrate transgender individuals who have transitioned genders" ("Church of England Considers Baptizing People into New Gender," ChristianHeadlines.com, Jun. 2, 2017). This church, so-called, already has transgender priests. One of these, Rachel Mann, said, "Trans people feel powerfully called to be recognized in their 'chosen' name. An opportunity to be publicly introduced to God is therefore significant." We are not sure what "God" Mann is talking about, but it is not the Creator God who made man male and female. Scripture teaches that the Creator forms each individual in the womb according to a preexisting plan, and being male or female is no accident of nature. True churches don't celebrate moral perversion; they preach the life-changing gospel of Jesus Christ whereby sinners are converted from wickedness and given a new mind to love truth and righteousness. The transgender movement of the 21st century is the logical consequence of the feminist unisex movement of the 20th. "Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect; and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them" (Psalm 139:16).

JUSTIN BIEBER'S EMPTY PLATITUDES

(Friday Church News Notes, June 9, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - At a concert to raise money for victims of recent terrorist attacks in London and Manchester, rockers delivered empty platitudes to England and the world. Ariana Grande was joined by Justin

Bieber, Katy Perry, and others. Bieber, who was baptized and mentored by Hillsong pastor Carl Lentz, said, "God is good in the midst of the darkness. God is good in the midst of the evil. God is in the midst no matter what's happening in the world, God is in the midst, and He loves you and He's here for you" ("Justin Bieber Ministers at Manchester Concert," CBNNews, Jun. 4, 2017). This is a universalistic, moral relativistic message from "The Shack" god. The God revealed in Scripture is indeed good and He loves the world (John 3:16), but He is a holy God who receives sinners on His own terms, not on the sinner's terms, and His terms are repentance and faith in the Calvary atonement of Jesus Christ. It is the good and loving Christ who said, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3), and, "except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3). To repent of one's sin is to renounce it, but these people have not renounced their wicked lifestyles and lascivious "art." God is not "here" for those who reject His Word and flaunt their sin, as the rock crowd does. Bieber, for example, in his song "Kiss & Tell," encourages girls to have secret immoral relationships with guys. "Your lips are calling me, like they wanna do something; I feel the chemistry, Yea you're into me. ... Just keep it quiet; keep it on the hush/ And what we do keep it just between us. ... Use them lips for kissing, girl, if you wanna ride with me/ ... Don't tell your mama ..." Ariana Grande and Katy Perry sing the same sort of filthy trash and thus promote global rebellion against the holy God among children as young as five. They love darkness rather than light, yet they want to pretend as if God comforts them in their darkness. They are the devil's emissaries, and the modern world of global communication is their stage.

ANOTHER CONTEMPORARY CHURCH STARTED BY A WEST COAST GRADUATE (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - We have learned of yet another contemporary church founded by a graduate of West Coast Baptist College (Lancaster Baptist Church, Lancaster, California). The cool name of this cool church is Grace Gatherings, and the pastor is Todd Weaver, whose father is on staff at West Coast. Everything is very emerging at Grace Gatherings. Instead of a statement of faith, they have a "Theology Narrative." Instead of the Bible being infallibly inspired by God, it is an "authoritative narrative." For salvation, there is no mention of repentance or born again, just the "the Spirit of God affirms as children of God all those who trust Jesus." They don't do missionary work; they do "holistic" "missional" work. They say the church's work is to "usher in the kingdom of God." (In this connection, it's interesting that Lancaster sings Pentecostal Jack Hayford's song "Majesty" with its kingdom now theology.) The church, they say, "is a global and local expression of living out the way of Jesus through love, peace, sacrifice, and healing as we embody the resurrected Christ, who lives in and through us, to a broken and hurting world." One will look in vain in the church's "theology narrative" for a statement on God's eternal judgment of the unsaved in the lake of fire. There appears to be a strong element of universalism. Their "community works" projects include the New Agey Alcoholics Anonymous with its emphasis on a "higher power" rather than the God of Scripture. It sounds like Weaver has been influenced by men such as Rob Bell, Robert Webber, and Brian McLaren. But Lancaster/West Coast's "do not criticize" philosophy doesn't allow for church members and students to be properly educated and warned of such men and their heresies. And many bridges are built from the church and student body to evangelicalism and beyond by such things as contemporary worship music. When has Pastor Paul Chappell publicly and emphatically renounced the many contemporary West Coast graduates, including his own son Matt of Rock Hill Church, that are leading people astray around the world? For more about the emerging church see the free 55-page eBook The Emerging Church Is Coming, and for a more thorough study, see the 440-page What Is the Emerging Church? Both are available at www.wayoflife.org.

U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT PROMOTES HOMOSEXUAL RIGHTS WORLDWIDE (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - U.S. Secretary of State Rex Tillerson issued a statement on June 7 promoting homosexual rights worldwide. "In recognition of LGBTI Month, the Department of State affirms its solidarity with the human rights defenders and civil society organizations working around the world to uphold the fundamental freedoms of LGBTI persons to live with dignity and freedom." LGBTI stands for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Intersex. The very concept of LGBTI is brazen rebellion against the holy Creator, who made man male and female and forbade man to have sexual relationships outside of holy matrimony, which the Bible defines as a marriage of one man and one woman. The pushing of homosexual rights by the United States government has already resulted in oppression of Bible-believing Christians, and it will escalate as the power of government is brought to bear against those who refuse to bow to its immoral stance. President Donald Trump has done nothing to stop this trend. The only thing that will hinder this apostasy is effectual intercession by individuals and churches that are on "praying ground." (For more on this see "What Rights Others Lose When Homosexuals Gain Their Rights," www.wayoflife.org.) "Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision" (Psalm 2:1-4).

ONTARIO LAW ALLOWS GOVERNMENT TO SEIZE CHILDREN FROM PARENTS WHO OPPOSE GENDER TRANSITION (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - The following is excerpted from "Ontario Passes Law," Christian Post, Jun. 4, 2017: "Canada's Ontario province has passed legislation that allows the government to seize children from families that refuse to accept their child's chosen 'gender identity' or 'gender expression.' The so-called Supporting Children, Youth and Families Act of 2017, or Bill 89, was approved by a vote of 63 to 23, according to The Christian Times. It requires child protection, foster, adoption service providers, and judges to take into account and respect a child's 'race, ancestry, place of origin, color, ethnic origin, citizenship, family diversity, disability, creed, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression.' 'I would consider that a form of abuse, when a child identifies one way and a caregiver is saying no, you need to do this differently,' Minister of Child and Family Services Michael Coteau, who introduced the bill, was quoted as saying. 'If it's abuse, and if it's within the definition, a child can be removed from that environment and placed into protection where the abuse stops.' The bill replaces the Child and Family Services Act, or Bill 28, which governs child protection, foster care and adoption services. Bill 28 stated that the parent of a child in care retains the right 'to direct the child's education and religious upbringing.' However, the new law amends it thus: 'to direct the child or young person's education and upbringing, in accordance with the child's or young person's creed, community identity and cultural identity.' ... Jack Fonseca, senior political strategist for Campaign Life Coalition, is quoted as saying, 'With the passage of Bill 89, we've entered an era of totalitarian power by the state, such as never witnessed before in Canada's history. Make no mistake, Bill 89 is a grave threat to Christians and all people of faith who have children, or who hope to grow their family through adoption.'"

VAST MAJORITY OF ISRAELIS OPPOSE PALESTINIAN CONTROL OF JERUSALEM (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - According to a new poll, 84% of Israelis opposed any "two state" solution that gives the Palestinians sovereignty over Jerusalem. "The poll, commissioned by Israel Hayom and conducted by Maagar Mochot, found that 67 percent of Israelis would oppose a peace deal granting the Palestinians partial sovereignty over the Old City of Jerusalem. Opposition to a peace deal rose to 84 percent if it allows the Palestinians full sovereignty over the Old City" ("Most Israelis Prefer United, Sovereign Jerusalem over Peace," BreakingIsraelNews.com, Jun. 4, 2017).

200,000 ATTEND TEL AVIV'S GAY PRIDE PARADE (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - The 200,000 "revelers" who participated on June 9 for Tel Aviv's annual Gay Pride parade included 30,000 visitors from abroad. The parade is the highlight of the city's Pride Week. Tel Aviv is ranked as the world's "most gay-friendly city." A representative of the mayor's office said, "Gay tourism is one of the pillars of our economy" ("Over 200,000 attend," The Times of Israel, Jun. 9, 2017). The theme of this year's filthy event celebrated "bisexuality." Ezekiel 37:1-14 describes Israel's return to the land from her worldwide diaspora in two stages. This important prophecy is the only one that describes Israel's return to the land before her spiritual conversion and before the establishment of Christ's kingdom. It is a return to the land in preparation for the coming of the Antichrist and the building of the third temple as described in Daniel's 70 Week prophecy (Da. 9:24-27). Ezekiel sees Israel as a valley of dry bones. Verse 11 gives the interpretation: "these bones are the whole house of Israel." This has been her condition for nearly 2,000 years. She was scattered to the ends of the earth, and it appeared that she was dead and finished. Ezekiel sees Israel brought to life and restored in two stages. First, she will be brought back to the land but in a spiritually dead condition. Verse 8 says the dead bones were raised but "there was no breath in them." Then Israel will receive the divine breath of life, as described in verses 9-10, "and the breath came into them, and they lived." Israel will live spiritually when she is converted during the Tribulation. This is described in Zechariah 12:9-14; 13:8-9.

ISRAEL PREPARES FOR A MAJOR EARTHQUAKE (Friday Church News Notes, June 16, 2017, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - Israel is conducting a series of emergency drills called "Earthquake 2017" to prepare for a major earthquake. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said, "There are enough earthquakes around us in all senses of the word, but we live adjacent to the Syrian-African rift, and an earthquake can hit at any moment. They already have and they undoubtedly will" ("Israel Prepares for Major Earthquake," Israel Today, Jun. 12, 2017). The Bible describes a major earthquake that will level a tenth part of Jerusalem at the onset of the Great Tribulation. "And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven" (Revelation 11:13).

500th ANNIVERSARY OF THE PROTESTANT REFORMATION (Friday Church News Notes, June 23, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - This year is the 500th anniversary of the posting of Martin Luther's 95 Theses which led to the Protestant Reformation.

The name “Protestant” originated with a group of German princes who protested against Rome twelve years later in 1529. The term typically refers to denominations that arose from that era—particularly Lutheran, Presbyterian, Anglican (Episcopal), and Methodist—but it is often used to describe all non-Catholic denominations. Though the Protestants came out of Rome and rejected many of Rome’s errors, they also kept many unscriptural things, such as infant baptism, a priesthood, allegorical interpretation of prophecy, replacement theology, and state churchism. The Reformation was a large and complex social, political, and religious phenomenon involving many nations and occurring over a long period of time and it had a major role in creating the modern world. It was a great changing of the times (Daniel 2:21). The spread of spiritual light through the preaching of the gospel and the publication of the Bible produced such things as advanced concepts of human liberty, economic improvement, scientific advancement, advancement in the arts, and social progress (e.g., increase in literacy, end of slavery, better working conditions, higher wages). We look at these things in the book The Bible and Western Society, which describes some of the good fruit of the Reformation. An extensive study of the Protestant Reformation can be found in the 2016 edition of the two-volume History of the Churches from a Baptist Perspective.

U.S. ARMY’S TRANSGENDER TRAINING ADDRESSES MALE PREGNANCIES (Friday Church News Notes, June 23, 2017, www.wayoflife.org fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - The following is excerpted from Todd Starnes, Fox News, Jun. 16, 2017: “The Army has begun mandatory transgender sensitivity training for soldiers. The training covers everything from ‘transfemale’ soldiers to transgender shower etiquette to dealing with a male soldier who becomes pregnant. ... ‘That pregnancy scenario is beyond words,’ Chaplain Alliance for Religious Liberty executive director Ron Crews told me. ‘This is an example of how this social policy can be used simply to promote personal agendas at the expense of taxpayers with no regard for being what the military is all about.’ The matter of male soldiers with child is tucked away inside the Army’s ‘Policy on the Military Service of Transgender Soldiers Training Module, Tier 2: Commanders and Leaders.’ ... [It was] mandated during the Obama Administration. ‘The training module specifically outlines key roles and responsibilities of commanders, transgender soldiers, military medical providers and administrative management organizations,’ Lt. Col. Jennifer Johnson told USA Today. ‘This training is mandatory for all uniformed members, as well as Department of the Army civilians.’ The briefing materials cover all sorts of scenarios--from shower stall etiquette to ‘transfemale’ soldiers deployed to anti-LGBT countries. ... Female soldiers must also come to terms with taking a shower alongside men who identify as women--even if the transgender soldier did not undergo sex-reassignment surgery. ‘Soldiers must accept living and working conditions that are often austere, primitive, and characterized by little or no privacy,’ the module states. ‘All soldiers will use billeting, bathroom and shower facilities associated with their gender marker.’ The Army guidelines mandate facilities will not be designed, modified or constructed to make transgender-only areas. ‘Accommodations cannot isolate or stigmatize the TG soldier,’ the guidelines state.”

CANADA PASSES RADICAL LAW FORCING GENDER THEORY ACCEPTANCE (Friday Church News Notes, June 23, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - The following is excerpted from LifeSiteNews, June 15, 2017: “Canada’s Senate passed the Justin Trudeau Liberals’ transgender rights bill unamended this afternoon by a vote of 67 to 11, with three abstentions. The bill adds ‘gender expression’ and ‘gender identity’ to Canada’s Human Rights Code and to the Criminal Code’s hate crime section. With the Senate clearing the bill with no amendments, it requires only royal assent in the House of Commons to become law. Critics warn that under Bill C-16, Canadians who deny gender theory could be charged with hate crimes, fined, jailed, and compelled to undergo anti-bias training. Foremost among these critics is University of Toronto psychology professor Dr. Jordan Peterson, who along with lawyer D. Jared Brown, told the Senate committee that Bill C-16 is an unprecedented threat to freedom of expression and codifies a spurious ideology of gender identity in law. Peterson was invited to the committee by Manitoba Senator Don Plett, who voted against the bill. ... Prime Minister Trudeau praised the bill’s passage as ‘great news.’ But Campaign Life Coalition, the political arm of Canada’s pro-life movement, condemned the passage of Bill C-16. ‘This tyrannical bill is nothing but social engineering to the nth degree, all in the name of political correctness,’ Campaign Life’s Toronto vice president Jeff Gunnarson told LifeSiteNews. Jack Fonseca, Campaign Life's senior political strategist, said the bill will be used to attack Christian belief. 'Mark my words, this law will not be used as some sort of "shield" to defend vulnerable transsexuals, but rather as a weapon with which to bludgeon people of faith and free-thinking Canadians who refuse to deny truth,' he told LifeSiteNews. ... Lawyer Brown told the Senate Committee the federal Liberals have made it clear they will follow Ontario's lead when implementing Bill C-16. And Ontario Human Rights Code guidelines 'mandate' the use of genderless pronouns on request, he said. 'Mandating use of pronouns requires one to use words that are not their own that imply a belief in or agreement with a certain theory on gender,' he added. 'If you try to disavow that theory, you can be brought before the Human Rights Commission for misgendering or potentially find yourself guilty of a hate crime. To sum up, on the subject of gender, we're going to have government-mandated speech.' Those who refuse to go along could be 'brought before the federal tribunal,' Brown said. If the tribunal assesses a penalty such as a fine or "non-monetary remedy, such as a cease and desist order or an order to compel them to do something," and the person refuses, 'they will find themselves in contempt of court and prison is the likely outcome of that process until they purge the contempt,' he added."

LARGE MAJORITY OF AMERICANS SUPPORT EUTHANASIA (Friday Church News Notes, June 23, 2017, www.wayoflife.org, fbns@wayoflife.org, 866-295-4143) - The following is excerpted from "73 Percent," NewsMax, Jun. 12, 2017: "Nearly three out of four Americans support euthanasia, a new Gallup poll revealed. Here is how the poll breaks down on the issue of whether a doctor should be allowed to end a terminally ill patient's life by painless means if the person requests it: A total of 73 percent of adults surveyed are in favor of it. 55 percent of weekly churchgoers support euthanasia, while 87 percent of those who rarely, if ever, go to church back it. 60 percent of conservatives support it, compared 79 percent of moderates and 89 percent of liberals. 67 percent of Republicans or Republican-leaning independents are in favor of it, compared to 81 percent of Democrats or Democratic-leaning independents. ... 'Support for euthanasia is nearly double what it was when Gallup first polled on the question in 1947, when 37 percent said it should be allowed by law. By 1973, a slim majority of 53 percent supported it. Since 1990, solid majorities of Americans have expressed support for euthanasia, ranging from 64-75 percent.'"
